Product description:

It was with fans of the great outdoors in mind that we created the new designer headlamp FREEQ, which stands out with its unique colours. Not only is it shock- and fall-resistant, but the headlamp is also extremely lightweight (77 grams), so much so that you will hardly notice it's on your head as you're running to set your personal best. The lamp provides up to 140 lumens from the front LED, working at maximum capacity for almost 7 hours, while the 90-degree adjustable angle head makes sure that light always falls in the desired direction. FREEQ also has red rear LEDs that will make your presence known to those left behind you for as long as 11 hours at full power. The headlamp remembers the last setting you used, and the battery charge indicator reminds you to recharge before your next great expedition. A stylish companion on the way to an unforgettable adventure.
