Product description:

Rebel knows no compromise and easily trumps heavier designs. The 34 g headlamp is an amazing tool for sportsmen, runners and climbers who want to curb the weight of their gear. Rebel is a trusty partner and will support you in achieving better and better results - no sore head, no additional weight in the backpack, no hindrance to your moves - just a perfect companion for long, demanding sessions. Providing 400 lumens and reaching up to 33 metres, it also boasts amazingly long operating time for its weight. The flashlight features 3 types of LEDs and allows the user to select the light's colour temperature. Rebel can also produce red light and serve as a warning light when travelling on roads. The flashlight comes with a helmet mounting clip and the belt's inner side has silicone stabilizers for better grip on smooth surfaces.
